RIVERMEADE

SINCE 1974

→ Wellcome Collection, London

A fascinating museum, library and exhibition space that celebrates the connections between science, medicine, life and art. A complete sign scheme integrated with the newly refurbished spaces. Design by Holmes Wood.

The people behind the signs.

The Rivermeade team is the strength of the company. Many at Rivermeade have been with us for all or most of their working lives – staff turnover is minimal. We work closely together, support each other with only one goal – to give the best possible service to our customers.

We make everything here.

That way we keep control of quality and delivery. We have factories in London and Gateshead and a works team that is multi-disciplined and dedicated. This gives us a huge degree of flexibility throughout the design development and manufacturing process to ensure that your signs are ready on time and made to the most exacting standards. Designers and specifiers are encouraged to visit us – there is always interesting work to see.

↑ Battersea Power Station, London

The iconic Grade II* listed building and surrounding area now re-created as an exciting mix-use commercial and residential neighbourhood. Large scale external signs as well as internal signs in the residences. Design by Holmes Wood.
